CORONAVIRUS IMPACT ON GLOBAL SUPPLY CHAIN

Dear Valued Customers:

Galvanic is closely monitoring the Coronavirus situation and its impact on the global supply chain. We are in continuous dialogue with our vendors to understand and adapt wherever possible.

Our suppliers have informed us of potential inventory shortages due to a reduced workforce, inability to maintain production schedules, and shipping constraints. For these reasons, we expect some delays and shortages in sourced parts.

Galvanic has taken proactive measures with respect to inventory management to mitigate the risk of longer lead times. However, we encourage customers to review scheduling requirements and consider sending purchase orders promptly to secure your parts and equipment.

Galvanic is committed to do whatever we can to provide certainty and best meet your delivery requirements.

Regards,

Ian Tell
Vice President, Sales and Marketing
